Resident/Fellow On-Campus Housing Selection Policy, MedEd-2200

Document Configuration Section

Medical Education

Subsection

General

Category

Departmental

References

N/A

Applicable To

All residents and fellows in both accredited and non-accredited residency and fellowship programs overseen by Gundersen Lutheran Health System, Inc. or any of its subsidiaries, (hereinafter referred to collectively as "Gundersen").

Purpose Statement

On-campus housing is available for rent for residents/fellows completing residency/fellowship programs at Gundersen. There are a limited number of housing units available for residents/fellows who complete these residency/fellowship programs at Gundersen. Therefore, this policy outlines the housing application review/selection process for on-campus housing for residents/fellows, if demand exceeds capacity.

Definitions

On-Campus Housing: Available housing for residents/fellows in the West Housing Complex (50 units) and the East Housing Complex (24 units).

Implementation

I. On-Campus Housing Prioritization

- a. First consideration for available housing is based on residency/fellowship program requirements for taking in-house call, call from home, work intensity, and distance/response time to Gundersen for emergent and urgent patient care. The programs which have been deemed to meet the criteria for prioritization are: Family Medicine, General Surgery, Internal Medicine, Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery, Podiatric Medicine & Surgery, and Transitional Year residencies, Advanced GI & Minimally Invasive Bariatric Surgery Fellowship.

II. First-Round Housing Applications

- a. A housing application will be sent as part of the onboarding process to all incoming residents/fellows after all matched residents/fellows are identified for the next academic year. This typically occurs around mid-March.
- b. Residents/Fellows will have two weeks to complete the housing application and return it to the Medical Education Office (MEO) via the instructions provided if they desire to live on campus during their residency/fellowship. The deadline date will be listed in the instructions provided by MEO.
- c. Applications will be reviewed after the deadline date to evaluate the number of requests for on campus housing in combination with the number of housing units available.
- d. If the number of application requests from the prioritization list (I. a.) exceeds the number of available housing units, a lottery will be used to determine housing unit selection.
- e. Residents/fellows from the prioritization list (I. a.) who submitted their application on time will be notified by MEO of their on-campus housing option by the end of the week following the application deadline. They will have 48 hours to accept the housing option emailed to them. If the resident/fellow does not accept within 48 hours or declines, the housing unit will be made available for the second-round housing application process.

- f. Residents/fellows who did not submit their housing application by the deadline will be considered after the second-round housing application process is completed. No exceptions will be made.

III. Second-Round Housing Applications

- a. If housing units are still available after the first-round application process a lottery will be used to determine housing unit selection for residents/fellows desiring to live on-campus. Individuals from the first round who failed to meet the 48-hour response deadline will be re-entered into the second-round lottery.
- b. Residents/fellows chosen through the lottery will be notified by MEO of an available housing option and have 48 hours to accept the housing option emailed to them.
- c. This lottery process will continue till all available housing units for that standard academic year are filled.
- d. When all housing units have been filled, residents/fellows who submitted housing applications will be notified by MEO that on-campus housing is no longer available. This time-sensitive information will be shared immediately following the completion of the second-round housing lottery process.
- e. Community housing resources will be provided to any resident/fellow who was unable to obtain on-campus housing.

IV. On-Campus Housing Off-Cycle

- a. Due to some program start and end dates, as well as program extensions, occasionally on-campus housing may be available off-cycle from the standard academic year.
- b. If there are not enough housing units available during the first-round application process to satisfy the requests, residents/fellows from the prioritization list (I. a.) will be given first option of an on-campus off-cycle unit. In these circumstances the following will pertain to the resident/fellow provided this option:
  - i. The resident/fellow will be notified of the unit's availability date.
  - ii. The resident/fellow will be responsible for finding alternative housing till the unit is available.
  - iii. The resident/fellow will have 48 hours to accept this housing option emailed to them.
- c. If off-cycle housing units remain they will be placed in the lottery for the second-round housing application process.

V. Off-Campus Housing

- a. Residents/fellows may choose not to complete an initial housing application at the start of their residency/fellowship or decline the option and choose to live off-campus. If the resident/fellow later requests to rent on-campus housing, the submitted application will be considered after the second-round housing application process is completed for the upcoming academic year.
